Clackamas Community College hosts international week celebration

Special to The Oregonian By Special to The Oregonian
Follow on Twitter

on April 21, 2014 at 2:06 PM, updated April 21, 2014 at 2:14 PM

Experience France, Ireland, Mexico and other cultures through music, theater, dancing, art and more during the International Week Celebration at Clackamas Community College.

This year’s theme is “Celebrating Peace Corps Volunteers.” The annual celebration is hosted by the college’s Foreign Language Department, International Education Committee, Associated Student Government, ESL, and the multicultural ambassadors.

The opening celebration is Saturday, April 26, and begins at 10 a.m. in the Niemeyer Center, room 119. The opening celebration runs in conjunction with the opening of an exhibit titled “The Peace Corps: 50 Years of Service,” courtesy of the Committee for a Museum of the Peace Corps Experience.

International Celebration activities continue April 28 through May 1, with music, dance, art and cultural displays. Most events take place between 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily in the Community Center, 19600 Molalla Ave. Admission is free.

Highlights include:

- Monday, April 28, from 1:25 to 2:15 p.m.: African presentation by Dr. Joseph Warimu, PSU Swahili professor
- Tuesday, April 29, from noon to 12:50 p.m.: Professional drumming by Anasi Beat
- Wednesday, April 30, 10:30 to 10:55 a.m.: Irish dancing by An Darie Academy Dancers
- Thursday, May 1, from noon to 1 p.m.: bilingual theater performance of Cuéntame Coyote (Tell me Coyote), performed by Milagro Theatre.

For more information, call 503-594-3403.

-- Janet Paulson, marketing and communications, Clackamas Community College

© 2014 OregonLive.com. All rights reserved.