Lakeridge and Clackamas Community College alum Tyrell Fortune may be the next great American heavyweight wrestler. All of 23 years old, he's already ranked No. 2 in the U.S. senior rankings and is being groomed to someday replace longtime U.S. big guy Tervel Dlagnev – who's five years older.

But at the U.S. Open freestyle championships Saturday in Las Vegas, Fortune was upset by former Missouri All-American Dom Bradley in the semifinals. Even so, Fortune came back to place third and easily pace the group of wrestlers with local connections competing this weekend at the junior and senior national championships in the Olympic styles (freestyle and Greco Roman).

Three Oregon State wrestlers finished as All-Americans in the ASICS Junior National Championships, led by true freshmen Devin Reynolds (3rd) and Jack Hathaway (4th). For the second consecutive year, redshirt freshmen Jared Reis placed 4th.
